VINE (Victim Information & Notification Everyday) is a free, anonymous, computer-based service that provides anyone – victims, family members, neighbors, advocates, law enforcement, prosecutors, judges, and the general public - access to the custody status of offenders in Ohio's jails, state prisons, and DYS facilities. VINE access is available all day every day, via phone or internet: 1-(800)-770-0192 or www.VINELink.com. VINE can also be used to receive telephonic or email notification if there is a change in an offender's custody status.

As the result of a recently awarded federal grant, VINE soon will be able to provide notification for the DRC parole and supervised release process and the Intensive Prison Program. These enhancements will serve as an even greater tool for law enforcement and victim assistance professionals.

In 2007 alone, VINE was utilized nearly one million times to check on the custody status of Ohio inmates or receive notification of changes in custody status. The success of VINE lies with offices such as yours that agree to support, utilize and promote it.
